EMPLOYMENT

Software Development Engineer, Intern

Brototype

2022-09-present

As a Software Developer Intern, I had the opportunity to gain valuable hands-on experience in web development while working with the MERN (MongoDB, Express.js, React, Node.js) stack. During my internship, I successfully completed a major e-commerce project, demonstrating my ability to design and develop robust, user-friendly web applications. In addition, I took on several mini-projects, allowing me to further enhance my skills and contribute to various aspects of software development.
